

Our Vision: Harmony, Hope, and Honor For Humanity

The Lunaprise is more than a remarkable collaborative achievement, it reaffirms our commitment to making history. This indestructible time capsule being sent to the moon, is meant to stand on the precipice of a new era in human exploration—a momentous occasion that carries profound significance for us all, globally.

We want to thank those who selflessly chose to contribute to our time capsule destined for the moon. Honoring the ones who said yes to the unique opportunity of being part of the legend of humanity's resilience and who had the courage to have the ambition of becoming a legend yourself. This was not just a mission to back up humanity; it was a chance to etch your story in the annals of cosmic history. Participation in this project was more than a mere contribution; it is now your legacy. As the capsule carries pieces of human culture, history, and individual stories to the lunar surface, your involvement is immortalized, echoing through the ages.

This mission represents not just a technological triumph, but an enduring testament to the indomitable spirit of human curiosity and the relentless pursuit of knowledge. For the first time since Apollo, we, as a nation, are taking a bold step back onto lunar soil, striving to etch our legacy onto the fabric of the cosmos. And Galactic Legacy Labs llc in collaboration with the Arch Mission Foundation and Space Blue, is proud to be part of this journey with our contribution of the “Lunaprise”. We like to think of it as the Lunar Hall of Fame of Humanity.

For this time capsule is not merely a container of artifacts; it is a declaration of our humanity, a message to the ages. In an era where artificial intelligence has evolved exponentially, reminding us of our own impermanence, it becomes all the more critical to leave a mark that is uniquely human—a legacy that transcends the boundaries of time and technology.

Legacy is about someone in the world remembering your name, not for the fame, but for the positive impact you leave behind. It's about understanding, in the grand tapestry of the universe, we are but fleeting moments, and what truly matters is what we choose to build, to create, and to share with generations to come. Even just honoring a loved one with kind words demonstrates what makes humans special, our hearts and capacity for love for one another.

This mission serves as our reminder that we have the power to make history, to shape the narrative of the future. It calls on us to unite as a nation and as a species, to stand together, backing up humanity with our collective ingenuity, creativity, and resilience. It beckons us to seize this opportunity, our last chance to truly make history based on human creation alone.

In the face of uncertainty and challenges, let us be guided by the conviction that what we do today echoes through the ages. Let our legacy be one of progress, compassion, and the unyielding pursuit of knowledge. Let us remember that every great journey begins with a single step, and today, we take that step towards the moon, towards the stars, and towards a future where our names and our deeds are immortalized as a part of making history. May we continue to strive for a legacy that makes the cosmos itself pause in awe of our achievement.